KIDS OF DALY CITY TO ENJOY HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Committee Will Provide Entertainment Features And Presents And Fruit And Candy For Youngsters.

The eyes of Santa Claus rest on Daly City. Such a brilliant municipal Xmas tree and our hundreds of well behaved boys and girls all had a tendency to loosen the sack strings of our fat, good natured Yuletide friend. No one knows how old he is, for as far back as anyone can remember, his beard was always snowy white and he always wore a bright red suit. It must be his love for everyone that keeps him young and happy. In honor of his official visit, a large platform will be built in front of the city hall on Wellington avenue and there, the Daly City Band will render some beautiful selections under the able leadership of Mr. Brenner and Miss Rose's dancing pupils will trip the light fantastic. These youngsters are well trained and attractively attired.

There will be other features of entertainment which will round out a wonderful evening for everyone.

Last, but best of all, Santa himself will appear and gifts will be distributed to every boy and girl. So be on hand at 8 o'clock sharp, to find your place in the line.

The age limit has been placed at 12 years and no older children will be allowed in the receiving line.

Here's a secret. If Santa finds you all well mannered, he may come to Daly City again next year. Remember, one or two rude children may spoil this party and keep Santa forever away. So everybody do your part to make this party a happy one. Will you all try?

We'll be seeing you tomorrow evening.

Water Department Crew Trim Tree

The crew of the water department, under the supervision of Arthur J. Bodien, were busily engaged in erecting and trimming a beautiful 21-foot Christmas tree on the lawn in front of the Daly City Hall, Monday and Tuesday of this week.

About 300 lights illuminate the tree, along with hundreds of myriad bits of colored tin, tinsel, etc.

Torso Of Unknown Man Found At Beach

The body of an unidentified man was found, Sunday, by J. H. Zeigler of 1131 Brunswick street, where it had been washed ashore at Thornton Beach.

The only clue to identity was a silver belt buckle bearing the initial "W." The head, arms and legs were missing.

The body was interred this week [illegible] Memorial Park.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL EXCEEDS DALY CITY QUOTA

Mrs. Horace Fellows, Roll Call chairman for Daly City, announces that our city has again surpassed its quota in raising funds for the American Red Cross.

Appreciation and credit is due Mrs. Evelyn Zgraggen, Mrs. Alice Reilley and Mrs. Mary Crane, who gave many hours in assisting in the campaign.

Also thanks are extended to our city council, grammar and high school faculties, merchants, organizations and all public spirited citizens who so willingly co-operated in this splendid work.

FIRE COMPANY ENJOYS OUTING

All members of the Daly City Fire Department, Station No. 4, were invited by Captain John Coleman, to spend the week-end of December 11 and 12 at his country home in Boyes Springs.

When the roll was called by the captain, those found present were Chief A. P. Chesney, Assistant Chief A. J. Bodien, Lieutenant A. Sundstrom, N. Foppiano, J. Lee, F. Mather and B. Davis.

The sacred ritual of preparing the salad for the first evening meal, after due deliberation, was accepted by Assistant Chief Bodien. The courses that followed, which were prepared by the members' wives, received the highest of compliments.

A few remarks were made by Chief Chesney, followed by other members, and closed with an interesting study by Professor Bodien, disclosing his data and knowledge on a subject of scientific importance which was well received by all present.

The evening was spent in such intriguing and fascinating games as tiddly winks, ping pong and checkers.

Sunday, after an appetizing breakfast prepared by the chef, the entire party visited the Boyes Springs Fire Department to inspect the new truck and equipment. A tour was then planned to all points of historical interest, such as Glen Ellen, Jack London's Valley of the Moon ranch, General Vallejo's residence and the Sonoma Mission and museum.

Dinner was then thankfully accepted and thoroughly enjoyed. Chief Chesney then thanked Captain Coleman for their completely enjoyable outing, and expressed deep sympathy for those comrades who unfortunately could not be there.

Honor Guests Of Journalism Class

Clive M. Saiz, president of the Central California Journalism Advisors Association, and Winola Ford, editor of the Senior Edition, at Jefferson Union High School, were special guests of the journalism class of South San Francisco High School, Tuesday of this week, when a group of students were initiated into the International Society of Scroll.

Mr. Saiz delivered a brief talk to the young journalists on the general topic "Journalism As a Career," in which he stressed the need for knowledge along many lines and emphasized the fact that brevity is one of the essentials in the profession.

Xmas Entertainment Inaugurates Season

The custom of years past is to be perpetuated when the children of San Bruno will be entertained by the performers sent there in connection with the Shell Company Christmas show. The huge sound truck with its self-contained unit, including stage and wings, will be prepared to greet the boys and girls of that city, Friday afternoon, December 17, at Uncle Toms Cabin grounds.

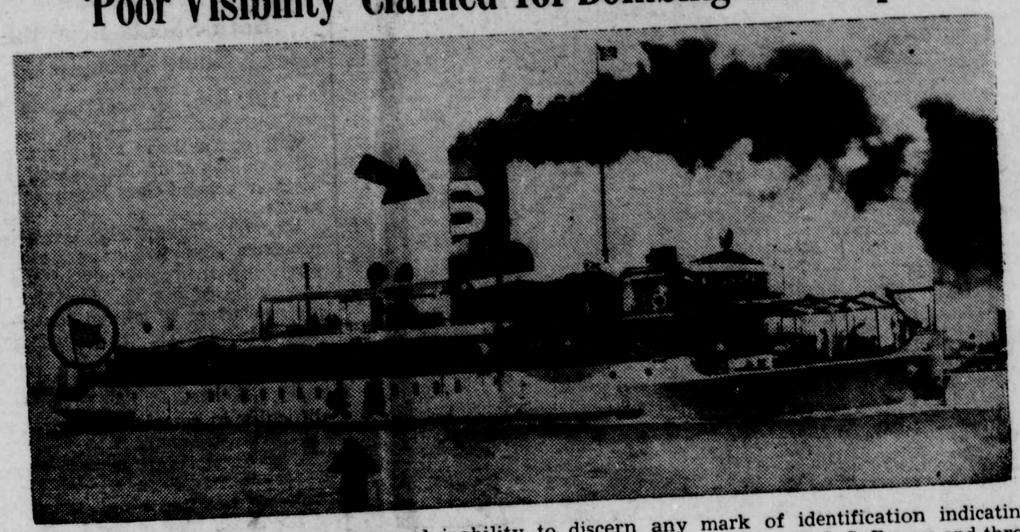
See your recreation leader and the bulletin boards for further information.

FALL CAUSES INJURY

Mrs. J. A. Foster of Peoria street, who had the misfortune to trip on her stairs and fall, one day last week, is still confined to her home and under care of a physician.

At the time of the fall, Mrs. Foster burst a blood vessel in her leg.

'Poor Visibility' Claimed for Bombing U. S. Ships



Japanese claim that poor visibility and inability to discern any mark of identification indicating that they were American ships, was the cause of the recent bombing of the U. S. S. Panay and three oil tankers in the Yangtze River. Survivor witnesses refuted the Japanese statement by declaring visibility was excellent and added Japanese launches machine-gunned the Panay and that soldiers boarded her before she sank. Photo shows the Standard Oil tanker Meishia, one of the bomb victims. Note the Stars and Stripes flying on the masthead and also astern. Arrow points to other marks of identification on stack and side of ship.

CARELESSNESS AIDS ACCIDENTS

The National Safety Council says: "The driver is the most important element in our traffic accident situation. Some drivers have accidents because they are actually defective in mind or body. A much greater number have accidents because they do not know how to drive. They do not observe right of way rules, stop signs or traffic signals, to say nothing of their obligation toward pedestrians.

The greatest number of drivers who have aceidents are neither physically defective nor ignorant of traffic rules. They do not really want to have an accident, but neither do they sufficiently want not to have one. They take chances and they expect other drivers and pedestrians to get out of their way."—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

COUNCIL VOTES FEDERAL SETUP FOR RECREATION

Money Appropriated So As To Be Included in Government Project

The members of the Daly City Council voted at their session, Monday evening of this week, to adopt a program of recreational activities in conjunction with aid for this purpose from the federal government.

The program calls for the government providing a supervisor of recreation here as well as the sponsoring of other features in connection with the program.

These activities have been sponsored through governmental aid in numerous localities throughout the United States. Several cities of San Mateo county and farther down the peninsula have been profiting by embracing this privilege.

The object of the movement is to provide the community with a method of keeping the children of the city from using our streets for playing and recreation and also to help educate them along physical and moral channels.

The council appropriated the sum of $350 as the city's share of the expense of a nine months program.

The two Daly City school districts will be invited to participate in this project and, possibly, to allow the school playgrounds to be used in the program.

Entertains Club

Mrs. C. Cameron entertained the members of the Delta Club, Tuesday evening of this week, at the home of Mrs. A. Cameron Jr., on Peoria street.

Dutch whist, followed by refreshments, was enjoyed by the following members: Mesdames Adeline Cullum, Myrtle Domenici, Tina Cameron, Jessie P. Curtin, Mary McKinnon and Dorothy Brush, and Miss Edith Pelicani.

JEFFERSON HIGH MAGAZINE NOW IN CIRCULATION

Students Perform All Actual Work In Connection With Publication of Their School Paper

This week Jefferson Union High School introduced its first literary magazine, The Scroll, which is composed entirely of original writings of the students. All the contributions were written voluntarily and the work of any student in the school was welcomed. The mimeographing was done by the commercial classes and the art work was a contribution of the art class. The magazine is to be published once a semester, at a price of ten cents, which is charged to cover the cost of publishing and not for making of profit. This semester 250 copies were printed and they will be on sale as long as they last. The aim of the magazine is not only to provide enjoyment to the reader, but also to give the talented young writers of the high school an opportunity to express themselves.

The Scroll is not only written and produced by the students, but it is also managed by them. The staff is as follows: Editor, Helen Day; Associate Editor, Eleanor Price; Business Manager, Bacci Delfino; Publicity, Alice Sanders and Lorraine Day. Short stories, Patsy O'Brien; Essays, Leon Fletcher; Poetry, Betty Jane Keller; Reviews, Mark Kanter; Art Editor, Patricia Schoening; Typist, Melba Warren.

The students who contributed to the magazine are Alice Campbell, Helen Day, Eugene Doyle, Leon Fletcher, Yvonne Franks, Evan Gillespie, Mark Kanter, Betty Jane Keller, Joe Nicoletti, Alice Nolan, Patsy O'Brien, Edith Paginini, Eleanor Price, Alice Sanders, Mary Yonan and Dorothy Zeiger.

GOVERNOR WILL CALL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Governor Merriam, early this week, stated he would probably call the State Legislature into special session early in the coming year.

Referring to state interests in tideland oil pools at Huntington Beach, Wilmington and Long Beach, the Governor said:

"There is every indication at this time that the oil situation will demand a special session of the Legislature to protect the state's interests."

He indicated that the Legislature likely will also take up measures to enable California to participate in the Federal Government's projected low-cost housing program.

GIRL SCOUTS HEAR SPEAKERS WITH INTEREST

Peculiar Circumstance That Both Should Bear the Same Surname

It was a coincidence that the two guest speakers who generously gave their time at the Girl Scout meeting of Troop No. 2 Saturday evening of last week, should both have the same surname, and both be leaders of a Scout troop in Daly City. Mr. John R. Young, Scoutmaster of Daly City Boy Scout Troop No. 141, and Miss Young, physical educational teacher at the Jefferson Union High School and captain of Daly City Girl Scout Troop No. 1, were the speakers of the evening.

Fully understanding the necessity and the requirements for the maintenance of good health, Miss Young gave the girls of Troop No. 2 advice and help which will enable them to

High School P.-T. A. Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the Jefferson Union High School P.-T. A. was held at the school, Wednesday afternoon of this week. The subject of the meeting was "Home as a center of moral and spiritual training becomes a great factor in developing universal peace."

Mrs. E. N. Kirkbride, district character education chairman, was the speaker.

There was a special program of music by the students. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

The next board meeting will be held January 5. Mrs. Edith Barker and Mrs. Pearl Jones will be hostesses.

BIG FEATURE AT HOME COURSE ON GETAWAY DAY

Some Of Best Thoroughbreds In Country To Be Seen In San Francisco Handicap

Amor Brujo, considered to be the greatest foreign equine invader since Phar Lap, will shoulder 125 pounds in the $10,000 added San Francisco Handicap at Tanforan, on getaway day, tomorrow, Saturday, December 18. On the basis of two sensational victories here in his only two American starts, Racing Secretary Julius G. Reeder ranks him second only to Seabiscuit in the mile and a sixteenth classic which rings down the curtain on the fall racing season in San Mateo County.

Seabiscuit, not now scheduled to start, was given top weight of 132 pounds.

Clockers, watching the flying black champion from Uraguay in his morning trials, predicted that Amor Brujo would defeat Seabiscuit if they ever meet. They made their

ONE MORE STEP TAKEN IN SETUP OF PLAYGROUNDS BY CITY COUNCIL

Deposit Sum Is Appropriated For Purchase Of Plot To Be Put In Condition For Recreational Purposes

At its meeting, Monday evening of this week, the City Council took another step forward to the acquiring of sites for the purpose of establishing recreational centers in Daly City.

At the last meeting the council voted to take an option on eight lots at the corner of Brunswick and Acton streets to be included in the playground program.

Monday evening, the members of the council unanimously went on record to purchase this site and appropriated the sum of $100 to be paid as a deposit until the final papers could be drawn and the financial details arranged.

By this action, our community is one step nearer to culmination of a long cherished hope among citizens that Daly City might move along in the procession of progress with other cities and establish a definite playground and park program here.

Our children have long been compelled to play in the public playgrounds in which to conduct their recreational activities. It is gratifying, indeed, that our city officials are alive to the situation and are doing their best to alleviate conditions which were becoming a serious problem.

Daly City Unit 40 Initiates Big Class

The annual Christmas party held jointly with the post, will be held next Wednesday evening. Mrs. Marcia Trier and R. L. Crane are chairmen. A program and a very enjoyable evening have been planned for the children.

After the business session, a delightful social hour was enjoyed by all. With President Alice Reilly as hostess, lovely gifts were exchanged and delicious refreshments were served.

Several members are assisting with the Daly City Community Christmas Tree Party, which will be held Sunday evening, at the City Hall.

Turning the pages of history back into the dusty past, an explanation as to why Americans drive on the right while Englishmen keep to the left side of the road has come to light.

It appears that the English custom of driving to the left originated back in the days when lone horsemen rode about armed to the teeth. In those days every stranger was a potential enemy and the rider would sidle over to the left in order to keep his sword or pistol arm on the side next to the stranger.

Later, drivers of coaches and wagons sat on the right side in order to have the right arm free for wielding the whip, and accordingly passed to the left of approaching vehicles as it was easier when sitting on that side to avoid wheel entanglements on the narrow roads and streets.

However, on the Continent, in France, Germany and Italy, the postilion system was used for both coaches and wagons and the driver rode on the left wheel horse. Accordingly, vehicles passed to the right. Today, there are differing practices in different nations and occasionally on crossing a national border it is necessary to cross from one side of the highway to the other.

In America, drivers of the old Conestegs wagons rode the left wheel horse postilion style and consequently drove to the right.

Driving to the left, oddly enough, is the custom in one United States possession—the Canal Zone. This is said to have resulted because the first chauffeurs coming into Panama were from Jamaica, where the British method of passing prevails.

TROOP NO. 141

Meets Thursdays 7 to 9 p. m. at Nazarene Church, Vista and Santa Barbara

(Scout Angelo Ditty, Troop Rep.)

Here we are again in The Record. Now that "yours truly" has been elected troop reporter some news will be dug up every week, so, folks, keep your eye on this column for the doings of this lively group of boys.

Scout Donald Laston has been elected troop historian. It will be his job to collect news items and other things of interest concerning the activities of the troop and put them into the troop log.

Richard King was chosen to fill the post of troop quartermaster recently vacated by Scout Glenn Goode. Glenn felt that he had one too many jobs.

Another job yet to be filled is the post of troop librarian. This will be a very important position now that we are collecting various volumes and especially merit badge literature.

Scout Glenn Goode made his report concerning his attendance at the Patrol Leaders Conference some weeks ago. It was a very good report and had suggestions of great value to our troop.

Our troop voted to make the church calendars for our sponsoring institution for 1938. We hope to get them ready in time for distribution by the first of the year.

The Waterdog Patrol is planning to construct a den or meeting place at the home of its leader, Glenn Goode. It is understood that the Indian Patrol is contemplating the same thing at the home of its leader, Lawrence Christiansen.

Our troop plans to have a three-day trip to Camp Lillienthall during the Christmas vacation.

FULL OF HOLES

Donald's mother sent him to borrow a colander. Some time later she looked out the window and saw him playing in the yard. She called to him, inquiring about the colander.

"Say, Mom," he said, "that thing wasn't any good. It was full of holes, so I threw it in the alley."—Neumode.

NEW BROADWAY TUNNEL MODERN UNIT OF TRAFFIC

Breaking the traffic barrier of the range of hills between Alameda and Contra Costa counties, the new Broadway low level tunnel also provides an impressive example of the trend toward building safety into highways and other traffic structures.

Supplanting the old high level tunnel and its narrow and winding westerly approach road as a connection between the East Bay cities and Walnut Creek in Contra Costa county and interior points, the new tunnel consists of two bores completely separating opposing streams of traffic and embodies modern ventilation and lighting devices.

The two bores are about 134 feet apart on their center lines, converging at the portals. Passing through the hills for a distance of 2910 feet, the tunnel is ventilated by an effective system. A feature of the lighting plan is a gradual transition from sunlight to artificial light upon entering the tunnel, thus avoiding the usual temporary difficulty of vision.

Traffic from the west has a choice of two routings to the new tunnel. One is via U. S. 50 to Broadway, thence out Broadway to the tunnel approach road. The other route is via U. S. 40, the East Shore Highway, to Ashby avenue in Berkeley and thence along Ashby avenue to the old tunnel road, using that road for a short distance to the junction of the new road leading to the new tunnel. The Ashby avenue section of this route is part of State Route 24, as are the tunnel and its connecting roads at both ends. The Landvale road serves as a connection between the westerly approach of the new tunnel and East Oakland.

Excellent newly improved highway extends from the easterly portal to Walnut Creek.

better comprehend and practice the "five points of health," which is one of their second-class Scout requirements.

Mr. John Young, who, through experience, observation and research work, has made a study of the life and habits of animals, gave interesting narratives of animal life during his address. The help which the girls received from Mr. Young's talk was greatly appreciated by them, for many of the girls have had difficulty in completing their nature study requirements.

With only a short time left to sell Christmas cards, the Girl Scouts are working hard to complete the sale of the cards they ordered. Up until Christmas, the Scouts will also continue to sell apples and oranges. If you have need of either Christmas cards or fruit, a phone call to Randolph 7978, will gladly bring a Girl Scout with your order.

On next Saturday evening, the Girl Scouts will hold a Christmas party instead of the regular meeting. Plans for refreshments and games were discussed at the last meeting.

CHIEF VALUE OF EDUCATION IS PAYING QUALITY

University Educator Says Cash Return Is Best Reason For College Attendance

The Dean of men at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, Raymond E. Manchester has outlined in the following article a worthy ideal for every college minded boy and girl.

We have many laments over the depression but the depression taught us some things we might have waited years to learn. One thing we learned was the fallacy of the notion that the chief value of education was its paying quality.

Of all the values of education, cash return should rate at the bottom of the list. Education should contribute to a man's spiritual and mental estate and make it possible for him to be happier and more useful to society. All other values are secondary.

Go to college for the sake of the college experience; the opportunity to associate with a select group of persons interested in the same things you are interested in; the opportunity to use a library; the opportunity to be with experts in various fields; the opportunity to express yourself in class discussion; the opportunity to enjoy a type of social life peculiar to student groups; the opportunity to try out points of view and attitudes toward social institutions and the opportunity to dream dreams of the future.

When Rev. Winfield Edson of Oakland, Calif., was invited to preach a trial sermon at a Fremont, Neb., church, he thought 1800 miles too far to travel, so he sent motion pictures of himself. He received the pastorate.

Western Coaches Organize Team for East-West Game

Organizing a football team is no easy matter, both Percy Locey, (left) athletic director of Oregon State College, and "Babe" Hollingbery, Washington State College football coach, agree as they scan telegrams of acceptance from grid stars throughout the country. Each year the pick of the country's football crop is chosen to play the annual East-West game on New Year's Day in San Francisco for the benefit of crippled children. Locey and Hollingbery will coach the team chosen for the West.

TIMELY TOPICS

About a half century ago, in 1888 to be exact, John Reid of Yonkers, N. Y., laid out America's first golf course. It was fitting, therefore, that his son, Archibald Reid, was named a few days ago as president of the United States Golf Association.

C. B. Clayton of Long Beach, aged 92, is suing his wife, who is 77, for divorce, charging desertion. He also alleges that Mrs. Clayton is worth $30,000 and he asks for "reasonable alimony."

Girl students at Vassar, Smith and several other colleges are making a great sacrifice in behalf of the Chinese. They have discarded silk stockings in order to cripple Japan's export trade in silk, and will wear rayon, lisle and cotton hosiery instead for the duration of the Japanese invasion—so they say.

Dr. Allan R. Dafoe, physician to the Dionne quintuplets was recently in New York looking after the children's advertising contracts. He says they now speak 300 to 400 words in French, but only about 25 in English. Their estate is now worth half a million dollars.

Chaplain William B. Arnold has been appointed chief of chaplains of the U. S. Army by the President. Father Arnold is a Catholic, the first of his faith to be made chief of chaplains. He was ordained a priest in 1908 and joined the Army in 1913.

Almost rivalling the fastest airplanes for speed, the new automobile record made by Captain George Eyston of England last month may stand for some time to come. He attained the amazing speed of a fraction more than 311 miles an hour on the Utah salt flats, beating Sir Malcolm Campbell's previous record of 301 miles an hour.

A hospital error caused relatives from three states to gather in Brooklyn for the funeral of Mrs. Maria Maggio, 94. When the casket was opened after its arrival at the Maggio home it was found that the body was that of a much younger woman, Mrs. Maria Maglio. The hospital authorities made profuse apologies for the mistake.

Mrs. Dorothy Collings of Greenwich, Eng., testified in her divorce suit that her husband had offered to sell her to an army officer for $15,000.

DRUNK DRIVING COULD HAVE COSTLY RESULT

"John Barleycorn" is a dangerous passenger.

This was the theme of a statement today by the public safety department of the California State Automobile Association, discussing the risks that a motorist is exposed to if he drives when he has been drinking.

"We all know that driving while intoxicated is dangerous to other motorists and to pedestrians," the statement said. But what the intoxicated driver usually fails to realize is that it is dangerous for him, too; not only the physical danger, but because it may cost him as much as $5,000 or five years in prison, or both fine and imprisonment.

"Drunk driving may be only a misdemeanor, punishable by a $50 to $500 fine or one to six months in jail. But if by direct action or neglect a driver injures anyone while he, the driver, is under the influence of liquor, then drunk driving becomes a felony punishable by a $200 to $5,000 fine or one to five years in prison, or both fine and imprisonment, and revocation of the driver's license for a year or more.

"You'd say it was good business to invest in a $3 taxicab bill to save anywhere from $50 to $5,000 in fines, or the stigma of prison, or, more important than all, to keep one's conscience free of the burden of having maimed or killed a fellow being.

"By resolutely refraining from driving if he has been drinking the motorist not only protects his money and his liberty but he also shows regard for the welfare of others."

WATCH TIRE PRESSURE

Air pressure in tires has a pronounced effect on correct action of the brakes, as well as the steering gear.

Underinflated tires may cause hard steering and are often responsible for low gasoline mileage, due to increased road friction.

Ernest Stokes of Stourbridge, Eng., was fined two cents for assaulting Roland Woodhall, who had gossiped about Stokes' wife.

Athlete Elected As Student President

Vance Adler, star athlete from South San Francisco, was elected president of the San Mateo Junior College students for the coming spring term at the recent student elections. He was recently named center on the all-conference football team.

At present, Adler is playing on the Jaysee basketball squad, and at the close of the conference basketball season he will pitch on the baseball team.

STEERING GEAR

One of the most important units of an automobile is the steering mechanism and it is essential that it be mechanically perfect at all times.

Striking the curb with a front wheel should be avoided, and even heavy pressure of wheel against curb may throw the system out of alignment.

CUT FUEL MILEAGE

Conditions which contribute to low gasoline mileage include fouled spark plugs, improperly adjusted breaker points, or poor compression due to worn cylinder, leaky valves, and similar defects, say experts.

Reports that Tommy Manville, the eccentric asbestos heir, has about run through with his large fortune are denied by a friend, who declares that Tommy is a shrewd business man and still has sufficient money to pay off the Finnish national debt "and have enough left over for a carload of blondes."

MAYBE THE SHOE WOULD BETTER FIT OTHER FOOT

Most Persons Pretend To Abhor Dictatorship; But It Is All Right If It Works To Their Interests

Not so long ago the critics of the administration were worrying about the haste of legislation.

They were complaining that bills were being jammed through Congress with the minimum of consideration, at the behest of the President, and were telling the people through the mouths of their spokesmen and the columns of their newspapers that Supreme Court decisions nullifying these laws were in consequence of the lack of care in the preparation of these laws.

Now their complaint is that Congress in special session is dawdling over its duties, spending its time in idle debate while the country is suffering for lack of the relief some pending measure is supposed to furnish.

The folks who attribute the drop in the stock market to the curtailment of investment—or speculation—by reason of the capital gains tax and the tax on undistributed corporation surpluses are particularly vehement in their demand for immediate action.

They seem to think that the President should grab Congress by the throat and choke a repeal bill out of them. Just a little while ago they were croaking about the approach of dictatorship because the President was—so they said—coercing a "Rubber-stamp Congress" into enacting various forms of legislation that he believed necessary for the progress and prosperity of the country. Still more recently they were hailing as heroes the members of the national lawmaking body because they refused to go along with the chief executive on another element of his reform program. Apparently they want dictatorship if the dictation is their way, but see in it the destruction of the American form of government when it is the other way about.

The President called the attention of Congress to inequities—not iniquities—in the existing tax law, and in his message, asked for correction. He told a press conference that he anticipated action as soon as it was compatible with proper preparation of the indicated bill. He could not well have gone further, and his hearers understood that he was prepared to sign such a measure. Nor does there apepar to be any more reluctance in Congress to enact a bill than is customary in regard to an important measure. Among 96 Senators and 435 Congressmen, there are bound to be cross-currents of opinion that must be reconciled before the thing goes on the statute books. Moreover, where a tax is repealed, the resulting reduction in the national revenue must be supplied from some other source or by some other process. Otherwise, budget balancing becomes a dream.

Present indications are that both the capital gains tax and the corporation reserve provision will be modified within a few weeks, but it cannot be done over night. It is requisite not only that a law shall be beneficial; it also has to be workable.

That particular problem is relatively simple for the Congressmen, but there are some other measures in the legislative mill that are not so easy.

There is a Congressional campaign in the offing and every member of the two Capitol houses has the natural feeling that the country's salvation depends on his election. The country wants the budget to be balanced and the only way that progress can be made in this direction is through smaller government expenditures. So, the other day the President sent a message recommending that the Government's highway grants to states, be cut from $214,000,000 to $100,000,000. Next day's newspapers headlined a "Congress revolt." Naturally, on the eve of election, some of the legislators dislike to vote for anything that will curtail the spending in their states. Just as naturally, they did not advance this as a reason for their opposition. They had tenable grounds in presenting that roads were of vast importance, and that some states had already levied taxes for what has been their share in highway construction. It is bound to be the same way with every proposal to diminish the treasury deficit.

So, while the refusal of Congress to consent to reductions in the costs of government is tedious and perhaps exasperating, it is only a passing phase. It will not be a great while before those most emphatic now in preserving the appropriations for roads, for example, will be shouting still more emphatically for stringent economies—including road spending—and then a balanced budget will really be in sight.

Catholic Girls Plan Activities

The members of the Daly City branch of the C. Y. O. for girls, held the bi-monthly meeting in the Parish school, Wednesday evening of this week. These girls, who number between 20 and 25 members, and who range in years from 12 to 18, are under the special instruction of Margaret Pettigrew, appointed to direct this work in the parish, by Rev. Father Smith. The girls participate in all kinds of sports, both indoor and outdoor. During the winter months, attractive indoor games have been provided for their pleasure.

A roller skating party is anxiously awaited by the members. This will take place as soon after the holidays as possible.

Many other affairs are being looked forward to in the near future by the members at large.

Father Smith wishes to invite all of the young ladies of the parish between the ages mentioned, who are interested in going places and doing things of interest, to join with this fine group of young Catholic women. You may do so by communicating with Father Smith at the Parish house, or by getting in touch with Margaret Pettigrew, at 6238 Mission street or by telephoning her at Randolph 2110.

NOTES ON OUR ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Life Situation Used As Initiative For Xmas Art Work

The spirit of "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" has definitely inspired the children of the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School. As a part of the Xmas art activity, students throughout the entire school have enthusiastically made Xmas cards which have been collected and given to a hospital for their use on Xmas day, as well as a means of amusing and diverting the minds of the patients in pediatrics. These sick children are delighted to have something to fill the weary hours that they are confined to their beds, unable to enjoy the rush and beauty which is characteristic of this festive season. Large pasteboard Santas, whose suit, cap and beard are cotton, have also been given to the hospital for use in decorating the pediatric ward. Mrs. Corral, art supervisor, has taken charge of this work.

Xmas Art Program Presented To PTA

The P.-T. A. of Woodrow Wilson Elementary School were entertained on Tuesday, December 14 by two groups of pupils from the school. One program was a repeat program given to the whole school during an assembly period for National Art Week. The program had been so worthwhile it was felt necessary to have it presented to the P.-T. A. It stressed the values of art as a career and also the cultural possibilities in art in our own community and in San Francisco. The following pupils participated in the program: Eldred Hahn, Jean Hanselman, Mary Picchi, Edward Bittencourt, Ruth Larson and James Parker.

The remainder of the program presented, carried out a Christmas theme. The different origins, customs and celebrations of Christmas in different foreign countries, were explained as well as those of our own country. The program concluded with the reading of Samuel Clemen's "Night Before Christmas" which is a popular poem with both young and old. The students participating in the Christmas program were as follows: Annaliese Trautmann, Wallace Bellando, Albert Donnici, Richard King, Eldon Przborowski, Robert Dyer, Donald Laston and Arthur McCrystle.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

"Thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations. Of old hast thou laid the foundations of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, December 19, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee? . . . The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them" (Ps. 89: 8, 11).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbooks, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Erring power is a material belief, a blind miscalled force, the offspring of will and not of wisdom, of the mortal mind and not of the immortal. . . . Moral and spiritual might belong to Spirit, who holds the 'wind in His fists;' and this teaching accords with Science and harmony" (p. 192).

Daly City Record Correspondent Enjoys Annual Party Of Our National Bureau Of Standards In Washington

(By Hart Goodrich)

Did you ever feel as Alice must have felt in a Wonderland of strange shapes and magic? Your correspondent played the part of Alice last Monday night at the Bureau of Standard's thirtieth birthday party. There is probably no more important, and yet least known branch of the government than this bureau.

The party was given primarily to members of the staff and their families, as the facilities for more guests were limited. Its four large buildings, situated on a high hill overlooking Washington, were ablaze with lights, and the show that members of the staff put on was worthy of the most talented magicians.

Liquid air played a big role in the show and put frozen inner tube, frozen beef steaks and frozen mercury (that silvery liquid in your thermometer) through their paces. The air you breathe becomes a liquid at 310 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit) and boils when it is exposed to room temperature. When a piece of inner tube is immersed in it, the usually pliable rubber breaks into many pieces if struck by a hammer. Even the hammer used was interesting, as it was made of that silvery liquid, mercury, frozen so it was at least as hard as lead. A bell, made of babbitt metal that usually could emit only a dull "clink" was transformed by the fairy wand of liquid air into a silver-toned bell. A great many substances, when subjected to the intense cold of frozen air, lose their color. Iodine changes to a light orange.

The Bureau of Standards maintains its own broadcasting station, used primarily for scientific purposes. It operates on three radio waves, which are so exact that they are used by radio set manufacturers in testing newly-made sets, by radio inspectors in policing the air waves for unlawful and unlicensed broadcasting and by college radio research laboratories. Only recently, the bureau has been broadcasting the Standard Musical Pitch, the exact note of "A" above middle "C." It can be heard on the Pacific Coast by any all-wave receiver at 5000 kilocycles, late in the evening. The amateur piano tuner could easily tune his piano (if he knew how) through this true pitch. It is used by musical instrument manufacturers and musicians all over the country.

The small amounts of that precious metal, radium, purchased for medical use, will be measured by the Bureau of Standards, free, for hospitals and doctors. This metal sells for $30,000 a gram. The State Hospital in Buffalo, N. Y., has probably the largest quantity in one lump—seven grams, or $210,000 worth. When this seven grams was measured and checked by the Bureau of Standards, it was carefully wrapped and carried by an old negro messenger employed by the bureau, to the express station, where he was met by an armed guard, which watched the treasure until delivered to the New York hospital. The poor old fellow almost collapsed when he was told he had been carrying $210,000 worth of something.

The functions of the bureau can be defined as including not merely standards of measurement and standard constants of physics and chemistry, but also standards of quality of performance and of practice. The bureau has the most efficient research staff in the country devoted to problems of engineering and industry.

The high standard of perfection maintained by the Bureau of Standards may be summed up in the inspiring words of Lyman J. Briggs, director, who gives us its objective as:

"To serve our countrymen and government with fidelity. To develop the methods and standards of measurements to their full utility; to search for truth fearlessly and unceasingly."

May these objectives guide us wisely and unite us in our work.

At the Turkey whist party held at Holy Angel's parish hall, Wednesday evening of this week, the following were among the prize winners: Mrs. C. Gatliff, T. H. Harrison, John Schenone and Mrs. H. Varni.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Cubbon, patients at the Villa Sanitarium, are reported improving satisfactorily from injuries sustained in an auto accident recently on the new coast highway.

predictions before the 5-year-old ever faced the gate here. In his only two starts, Amor Brujo has crushed his rivals, winning with ease each time, just beginning to open up as the wire loomed in front of him.

He will not lack for opposition on Saturday, however. Fair Knightess, greatest 4-year-old race mare on the American turf, will mark her fall debut here Saturday, under 122 pounds.

The crack three-horse entry of Major Austin C. Taylor, Vancouver, B. C., sportsman, will play an important part in the running of the San Francisco Handicap. Indian Broom, assigned 118 pounds, broke the track record for six furlongs in his only start here this fall. He was giving weight away to Seabiscuit in the last Santa Anita Handicap, and was third to Rosemont and the "Biscuit," beaten only a length for all of the money. Whichee, a brilliant 3-year-old, is in with 110 pounds, while Jargo, a superlative mud-running 3-year-old, slips in with 106 pounds, rounding out the Taylor trio.

Other starts in the counter include the stakes winning Star Shadow, 118; King Saxon, 118; Sabueso, 116; Chanceview, 114; Tick On, 114; Sargazo, 114; Your Honor, 108; Marynell, 108; Primulus, 106; Count Atlas, 106 and Rommy, 104.

Change Baseball Coach At Jaysee

After coaching the baseball squad for eleven years, Dr. Harold Taggart, dean of men at San Mateo Junior College, gave up the extra work because of the press of office work and teaching duties. His coaching will be taken over by Lee Bissett, gym instructor and assistant football coach.

Taggart won two conference titles during his coaching and got his team into the top half every other year. He developed some players who went on to the coast and eastern big leagues and this coming season appeared to have some of the best prospects San Mateo has had in the last four years.

To Add Rugby To Sports Schedule

Rugby football will probably be added to the sports schedule at San Mateo Junior College, if present plans materialize. Stanford University is supplying a coach for the 25 fellows who have reported for initial workouts.

Hopes are that local colleges will develop the sport and furnish players for an all-star team in 1939 to face visiting foreign squads at the Worlds Fair in San Francisco. Australia, New Zealand and Canada are expected to send their teams to the exposition.

Housewives Enjoy Christmas Presents

The little home at 416 Irvington street radiated with the spirit of expectancy as 19 housewives gathered around the Christmas Grab Box, Wednesday afternoon of this week, awaiting their turn to reach for the gift that only Santa himself knew would be theirs. The articles contributed by club members were hand made and were all beautiful, as well as useful.

The cook books were distributed and much satisfaction was expressed as to arrangement and workmanship.

The luncheon, served at 1 o'clock, by hostesses G. Augustien, E. R. Bolger, June Fletcher, D. Hunter and M. L. Pitschke, had a seasonal flavor and was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Henry Warshawski contributed a large box of pure sugar Xmas candy, which added much to the festal atmosphere.

The January meeting will convene the second Monday of the month, and will partake of the nature of a box social, each member bringing a lunch for one and including also a short clipping, in keeping with the tradition of the "New Baby Year."

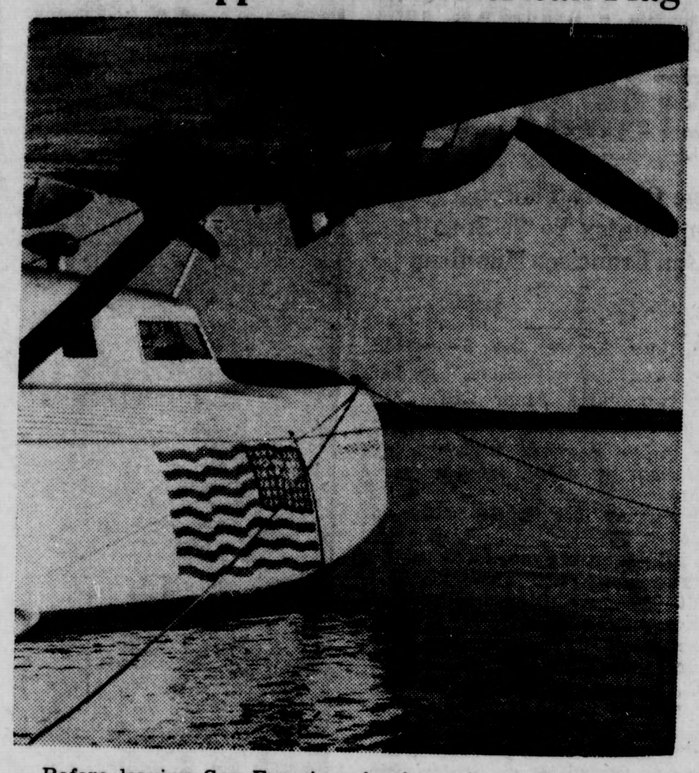
China Clipper 'Flies' American Flag



Before leaving San Francisco for her trip to China, the huge China Clipper was adorned with an American flag painted on her fuselage. The flying boat is making her first trip to Hong Kong and is taking no chances of being mistaken for an "enemy" plane by either side of the warring Oriental nations. Aboard the ship was Doris Duke Cromwell, who flew to her home in the Hawaiian Islands. Photo shows the flag painted on the China Clipper.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS OF INTEREST

In Jeferson School, the Nature Study groups of the Social Science Section, under the direction of Mrs. Leonetti, have three excellent exhibits on display.

The sixth grade has a display of many varieties of nuts that come from various parts of the world.

The seventh grade has arranged an exhibit of all the useful and useless weeds to be found in our vicinity. According to man, a weed is a plant out of place; but, according to nature, it is useful in some way.

The children have learned about the food and antiseptic values of so-called weeds.

The eighth grade has been making a thorough study of various leaves and their relation to plant life. They are giving particular study to recognition of poisonous leaves.

Monday of this week, Miss Irene Smith took her kindergarten class on a shopping trip. Under their teacher's guidance, the children purchased their tree and Christmas ornaments.

Having completed their boat unit, which included the construction of an ocean liner, considerable art work, nautical songs and stories about the sea, the children can now devote all their energies to the joyous activities that go with the Christmas season.

The keynote of the Jefferson Eighth Grade Service Club in Miss Traynor's room has been co-operative helpfulness and kindness to others. Throughout the year, in many ways, the club has carried out its motto of "Service to Others."

The children are now getting together Christmas boxes of food, clothing and gifts for several needy families. The Eighth Grade Service Club has been generously assisted by the sixth and seventh grades so that they, too, are participating in filling the Christmas boxes.

The club also has a personal interest in the San Mateo county Tuberculosis campaign. The club purchased two dollars worth of Xmas seals with club funds. They were delighted to receive a personal letter of thanks from the Xmas Seal Association.

James Clowery of Chicago shot his cook because she served pancakes for dinner.
